

Chief Harpster Appeals To Citizens For Clues In Baby's Decapitation

Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster today issued an urgent appeal to all Gettysburgians and Adams countians for any clue that may lead to the apprehension of the person or persons who murdered a new-born baby, decapitated it and threw the head in a sewer.

"This is a most gruesome and brutal crime and the guilty party or parties should be apprehended and prosecuted to the full extent of the law," Chief Harpster said.

"We have meager clues. We need the fullest cooperation of every citizen. Anyone who has any information whatsoever, the slightest clue may lead to the arrest of the murderer or murderers, should consider it his or her duty to notify us at once. All information will be treated in the strictest confidence.

"If any one has any information that may assist us in tracking down the guilty parties and does not wish to call at the police station or telephone the information we will be only too glad to call at his home or make other arrangements to receive the information.

"Please cooperate with us," was Chief Harpster's final plea.

Dr. C. H. Johnson, pathologist at the Warner hospital, is seeking to determine the sex of the murdered baby. He said that the bruises across the eyes and nose of the baby were done with a hatchet, cleaver or some similar weapon.

Flush Town Sewers

No trace has been found of the baby's torso. The Gettysburg fire department, at the request of Chief Harpster, flushed the sewers in town Thursday night in an effort to dislodge the body should it have also been placed in a sewer and become caught.

Fire Chief James A. Aumen was in charge of the firemen and was accompanied by Patrolman Kenneth Tawney. Chief Harpster, Borough Councilman Fred Hummelbaugh, Robert T. Shearer, disposal plant operator, Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner, and employees of the borough highway department were at the disposal plant. The flushing failed to discover the body.

Chief Harpster today expressed his appreciation to the firemen and to others for their services and cooperation.

TRAFFIC CURB ON LINCOLN TO BE MINIMIZED

Construction work on the relocated Lincoln highway from McKnightstown to beyond Fayetteville will be carried on with a minimum of interference to through traffic, C. R. Forbes, highway department district engineer, told a group of Chambersburg residents Wednesday evening at the Hotel Washington, Chambersburg.

He said that the interests of those who catered to tourists and those residents who had to travel the highway while under construction would not be neglected. He said, however, that hindrances to the speedy completion of the new construction would react seriously against those depending upon the highway for business patronage.

Relieve Money Loss

"We want to do everything we possibly can," he said, "to relieve the money loss but at the same time if we permit the construction to be dragged out through allowing full use of the road while the work is in progress, the work will run into next year and the total loss to those interested will be much greater."

One of the principal points discussed with the highway engineer was the placing of a sign at McConnellsburg, directing traffic through Mercersburg, Greencastle, Waynesboro and thence to Gettysburg.

Forbes said that the principal objective was to keep heavy trucks out of the construction areas so as not to impede progress of the work.

He said the first phase of the construction work would not interrupt traffic since all the work is on an entirely new right-of-way. There will be some interruption when the new work is joined with the old highway.

One Lane Traffic

The construction work in the Caledonia area will necessitate one-lane traffic, Forbes said. Two traffic lanes are being constructed there and when these are completed work east and west of that area must be so carried forward that connections can be made and two lane traffic resumed.

Detours for regular traffic will begin at Chambersburg, he said, but added that he saw no objection to business firms in the Caledonia area erecting signs to inform motorists that Caledonia Park and the various inns and other establishments can be reached without a detour.

PROF. BOLICH IS P.C.B.L. SPEAKER ON ANNIVERSARY

"The world would have fewer wars and fewer difficulties if women would take advantage of the power they have to control the world," H. P. Bolich, member of the English department of Gettysburg college, told 55 members of the Queen of Peace Council of the Pennsylvania Catholic Beneficial league Thursday evening.

Bolich was the principal speaker at a banquet held by the council at the Battlefield hotel in celebration of the organization's thirtieth anniversary. "Women not only have control of the home and thus can mold the coming generations but they control most of the world's wealth, spend most of its money, do most of its buying. Indirectly they control most of the organizations, for the men's clubs have ladies' auxiliaries and the auxiliaries can usually get the men to see things their way if they want it. Politically, they can influence their husbands and sons, and if that is not enough, here in the United States at least, they can outvote the men because there are more of them eligible for the vote. If women wanted a woman for president, for example, they could have her elected even though all men voted against her."

Former Patient Sends Gift To Warner Hospital

Because "I will never forget how attentive Dr. Sheely and the nurses at the hospital were," Miss Margaret P. Overdeer, Wilmington, Del., has sent a $10 contribution toward the new kitchen at the Warner hospital.

In a letter to Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, in which the donation was enclosed, Miss Overdeer pointed out "In the Star and Sentinel last week I read the account of the new kitchen at the hospital. I feel that I would like a small part in it so I am enclosing a check for that purpose."

She also added that "I am so glad that the hospital has been able to develop and receive so many improvements in the past few years."

Miss Overdeer's mother and father were residents of Gettysburg. Her mother is now an invalid. In her letter she said: "How I long to spend some leisure time in Gettysburg, but do not feel satisfied to leave mother overnight." Gettysburg is the only place for which I become homesick. My thoughts are there many times."

BLONDE THIEF CONTINUES TO LOOT COLLEGES

A thief who stole $25 from rooms of two coeds at Stevens hall on the Gettysburg college campus Wednesday, and $150 and a diamond ring from a girls' dormitory at Dickinson college, Carlisle, during the dinner hour Wednesday evening, visited three more schools in this section, according to police.

Students at Wilson college and Penn Hall, Chambersburg, are the latest victims, police reports said. Hood college at Frederick, Md., was visited by the thief Tuesday.

Borough police of the four cities, Gettysburg, Chambersburg, Carlisle and Frederick, joined today with state police of two states in an effort to locate a woman, between 30 and 40 years of age, who was seen at the five schools and is believed to have stolen more than $500.

Stolen Stockings

At Gettysburg college, the woman, described as smaller than average, about five feet, two inches in height, was seen to alight from a black Lincoln Zephyr sedan which she parked on Lincoln avenue. She visited both Stevens and Huber halls between 11 o'clock and noon. Later, two students, Margie Geissinger and Christine Gelman, reported money missing, Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster said. Miss Geissinger said she lost $22 and Miss Gelman between $3 and $4, according to the chief. A pair of stockings was also missing from a washroom, he added.

Chief Harpster said the woman was wearing a gray satin raincoat, green flowered bandana, white shoes and was carrying a red purse, according to descriptions given him. College authorities Thursday described the woman as a blonde Chief Harpster said she was described to him as having red hair.

Loose Tailight

College authorities said Thursday her car had a New York license plate in front and a California plate in the rear. Harpster said the front plate was a California tag, and a California plate was displayed in the rear window of the car. He also said that the tailight at the rear of the car was loose.

A woman, believed to be the same person, was seen Thursday morning at both Wilson college and Penn Hall, but her appearance aroused little suspicion. Discovered in a student's room in Riddle hall, Wilson college, the intruder made an excuse of wanting to borrow a pin, and disappeared. Her discovery prevented a more thorough search of the dormitory, police theorized. One student reported the theft of $1.

$315 From Hood

Value of the loot at Penn Hall, however, was expected to be much higher. Authorities there said they could give no estimate of the number of rooms entered or the amount of money taken. The robbery at Penn Hall occurred while students were attending chapel between 10:15 and 10:35 o'clock.

Loot at Hood college, Frederick, Md., was estimated at $315.

Gettysburg And Cumberland, Freedom, Highland, Straban Townships Form New Jointure

School board representatives of Gettysburg and four townships met Thursday night in the library of the high school here and signed articles of agreement forming the Gettysburg school jointure. The five school districts each elected their representatives to the executive board of the jointure, and then adjourned until Thursday evening, May 6.

Besides Gettysburg the jointure includes Cumberland, Freedom, Highland and Straban townships.

The way was left open for the admission of two additional townships, Franklin and Mt. Joy, if the latter vote next week to join with the five which signed Thursday night. Mt. Joy township school directors will meet Monday night to decide the jointure question, and the Franklin township board will meet Wednesday night.

Organization of both the joint school board and the joint executive committee will be effected at the May 6 meeting, which will be held in the high school library here at 8:30 p. m. daylight saving time.

GROWERS TOLD MARKETS WANT BETTER FRUIT

Adams county fruit growers were told Thursday evening that they will have to "grow a better product and do a better job of packing if they want to compete in the major markets with Washington state apples."

That statement is a summary of reports made by Ralph W. Tyson, Gardner, and Judson Davids, Carlisle, who told of the findings of a committee of growers in this section who recently visited the major markets, Washington, New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and elsewhere to determine why the local product was not in much demand while apples from other sections were apparently selling in quantities.

Tyson said that "C grade Washington State apples look better than our first grade ones. We need more color, and better pack. In addition lots of growers held back for a better price and the wholesalers told us that when they wanted to buy eastern apples they could get none, so they took the Washington state apples."

Want Boxed Apples

David's reported that "New York markets demand apples in boxes, want the apples wrapped and want better color and a uniform pack." He also reported that "All the dealers knew Sam Halsey's apples and want us to copy after him."

Harvey B. Raffensperger, president of the county growers said that Halsey, who has orchards near Mercersburg, spends about 50 cents per bushel to pick his apples. "Two years ago he sold 80,000 boxes of apples. He packs in boxes, which the New York market wants. He demands carefulness among pickers, permitting no apples to be dumped into crates, which results in bruises, and the apples that are not colored enough when picked are placed in the sunlight and girls turn them over from time to time until they get full color."

Cherries Damaged

Damage to apples and peaches from the cold weather during the past several weeks has not been extensive, while the prospects of the cherry crop have been reduced to about 50 per cent due to freezing. That was the summation of reports on freezing made by various growers from different sections of the county.

Harry S. Stoner, of the Orrtanna area; Richard Kuhn, of the Cash-town area; Ryland Garrettson, Benderville; Glenn Slaybaugh of the Musselman orchards; John Peters, of the county cooperative fruit growers, Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, President Raffensperger, Frank Hewetson and Dr. Fred Lewis of the South Mountain Laboratories all reported on the fruit crop.

They agreed that cherries were hardest hit, with Kuhn reporting a 95 per cent loss in sweet cherries. There was some disagreement on the sour cherry loss with Lewis and Hewetson more optimistic than most of the growers. All were agreed, generally, that there has been little damage so far to peach and apple crops.

Weather Is Helpful

The weather during the present spring season has proven ideal for the development of fungus diseases and insect pests, reports of Dr. R. S. Kirby and J. O. Pepper, of the State college extension staff, disclosed. At the same time the weather has been such that growers were handicapped in their attempt to get into the orchards to spray.

Daniel Morthland, 70, Dillsburg, was treated at the Warner hospital late Thursday afternoon for the amputation of his left thumb which was injured when it was caught under the belt of a corn-shelling machine.

Times School Ushers Assist Busy Mother

While preparations of The Gettysburg Times' first post-war cooking school were in the final stage and the Hotel Gettysburg annex was being decorated for the event, a brown, grey and white cat, undisturbed by all the excitement, gave birth to kittens in a storage room of the annex.

Now each night as the women thread their way into the annex, mother cat stands on the outside and looks them over to see if they are the type that will harm her offspring.

The ushers, all members of The Gettysburg Times staff, play nursemaid to mother cat and open the door for her whenever she becomes persistent in her efforts to enter the maternity room.

Former Patient Sends Gift To Warner Hospital

Because "I will never forget how attentive Dr. Sheely and the nurses at the hospital were," Miss Margaret F. Overdeer, Wilmington, Del., has sent a $10 contribution toward the new kitchen at the Warner hospital.

In a letter to Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, in which the donation was enclosed, Miss Overdeer pointed out: "In the Star and Sentinel last week I read the account of the new kitchen at the hospital. I feel that I would like a small part in it so I am enclosing a check for that purpose."

She also added that "I am so glad that the hospital has been able to develop and receive so many improvements in the past few years."

Miss Overdeer's mother and father were residents of Gettysburg. Her mother is now an invalid. In her letter she said: "How I long to spend some leisure time in Gettysburg, but do not feel satisfied to leave mother overnight. Gettysburg is the only place for which I become homesick. My thoughts are there many times."

Detroit, April 30 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers today scheduled a strike May 12 of 75,000 employees of Chrysler corporation. Thanks Elks Lodge For Lamp Donation

Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, president of the Woman's club of Gettysburg, today acknowledged receipt of $35 from the Gettysburg lodge of Elks.

"The donation is for our germicidal lamp fund and is an expression from the Elks of their interest in preserving the health of our young school pupils," Mrs. Scharf said.

"It was a splendid gesture on the part of the Elks and I want to publicly express the thanks and appreciation of myself and the Woman's club for this fine donation," she added.

ELKS' OFFICERS ARE HONORED AT LODGE BANQUET

Approximately 250 Elks, including visitors from Carlisle, Chambersburg, Pottsville, Ashland and Erie, attended the banquet given by the Gettysburg lodge 1045 Thursday evening in honor of in-coming and outgoing officers.

Lee Donaldson, Erie, head of the state association drive for the National Foundation fund and a past state president, was the principal speaker.

He spoke of the many benefits derived by an Elk through companionship and working together. He complimented the local lodge on having reached its quota in the Foundation drive and urged more members to subscribe. Mr. Donaldson pointed out that Pennsylvania uses its portion of the fund for student aid work.

J. Donald Dillman, exalted ruler of the Gettysburg lodge, presided as toastmaster. The invocation was given by Elmer W. Warren, esteemed lecturing knight.

Visitors Speak

Past exalted rulers of the lodge were introduced by Mr. Dillman. H. Earl Pitzer, state trustee and a past exalted ruler of the Gettysburg lodge, introduced the visiting Elks and additional speakers.

Among those who spoke briefly were Barney Wentz, Ashland, membership chairman of the state association; L. A. MacKenzie, Chambersburg, South Penn district deputy, and Dr. Charles M. Hogan, Pottsville, a past state president.

It was announced the Gettysburg lodge will hold its annual Mother's Day service Sunday evening, May 9, at 8:30 o'clock to which the public is invited.

BLONDE THIEF CONTINUES TO LOOT COLLEGES

A thief who stole $25 from rooms of two coeds at Stevens hall on the Gettysburg college campus Wednesday, and $150 and a diamond ring from a girls' dormitory at Dickinson college, Carlisle, during the dinner hour Wednesday evening, visited three more schools in this section, according to police.

Students at Wilson college and Penn Hall, Chambersburg, are the latest victims, police reports said. Hood college at Frederick, Md., was visited by the thief Tuesday.

Borough police of the four cities, Gettysburg, Chambersburg, Carlisle and Frederick, joined today with state police of two states in an effort to locate a woman, between 30 and 40 years of age, who was seen at the five schools and is believed to have stolen more than $500.

Steals Stockings

At Gettysburg college, the woman, described as smaller than average, about five feet, two inches in height, was seen to alight from a black Lincoln Zephyr sedan which she parked on Lincoln avenue. She visited both Stevens and Huber halls between 11 o'clock and noon. Later, two students, Margie Geissinger and Christine Gelman, reported money missing. Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster said. Miss Geissinger said she lost $22 and Miss Gelman between $3 and $4, according to the chief. A pair of stockings was also missing from a washroom, he added.

Chief Harpster said the woman was wearing a gray satin raincoat, green flowered bandana, white shoes and was carrying a red purse, according to descriptions given him. College authorities Thursday described the woman as a blonde. Chief Harpster said she was described to him as having red hair.

Loose Tailight

College authorities said Thursday her car had a New York license plate in front and a California plate in the rear. Harpster said the front plate was a California tag, and a California plate was displayed in the rear window of the car. He also said that the tailight at the rear of the car was loose.

A woman, believed to be the same person, was seen Thursday morning at both Wilson college and Penn Hall, but her appearance aroused little suspicion. Discovered in a student's room in Riddle hall, Wilson college, the intruder made an excuse of wanting to borrow a pin, and disappeared. Her discovery prevented a more thorough search of the dormitory, police theorized. One student reported the theft of $1.

$315 From Hood

Value of the loot at Penn Hall, however, was expected to be much higher. Authorities there said they could give no estimate of the number of rooms entered or the amount of money taken. The robbery at Penn Hall occurred while students were attending chapel between 10:15 and 10:35 o'clock.

Loot at Hood college, Frederick, Md., was estimated at $315.

Gettysburg And Cumberland, Freedom, Highland, Straban Townships Form New Jointure

School board representatives of Gettysburg and four townships met Thursday night in the library of the high school here and signed articles of agreement forming the Gettysburg school jointure. The five school districts each elected their representatives to the executive board of the jointure, and then adjourned until Thursday evening, May 6.

Besides Gettysburg the jointure includes Cumberland, Freedom, Highland and Straban townships.

The way was left open for the admission of two additional townships, Franklin and Mt. Joy, if the latter vote next week to join with the five which signed Thursday night. Mt. Joy township school directors will meet Monday night to decide the jointure question, and the Franklin township board will meet Wednesday night.

Organization of both the joint school board and the joint executive committee will be effected at the May 6 meeting, which will be held in the high school library here at 8:30 p. m. daylight saving time.

GROWERS TOLD MARKETS WANT BETTER FRUIT

Adams county fruit growers were told Thursday evening that they will have to "grow a better product and do a better job of packing if they want to compete in the major markets with Washington state apples."

That statement is a summary of reports made by Ralph W. Tyson, Gardner, and Judson Davis, Carlisle, who told of the findings of a committee of growers in this section who recently visited the major markets, Washington, New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and elsewhere to determine why the local product was not in much demand while apples from other sections were apparently selling in quantities.

Tyson said that "C grade Washington State apples look better than our first grade ones. We need more color, and better pack. In addition lots of growers held back for a better price and the wholesalers told us that when they wanted to buy eastern apples they could get none, so they took the Washington state apples."

Want Boxed Apples

David reported that "New York markets demand apples in boxes, want the apples wrapped and want better color and a uniform pack." He also reported that "All the dealers knew Sam Heisey's apples and want us to copy after him."

Harvey B. Raffensperger, president of the county growers said that Heisey, who has orchards near Mercersburg, spends about 50 cents per bushel to pick his apples. "Two years ago he sold 80,000 boxes of apples. He packs in boxes, which the New York market wants. He demands carefulness among pickers, permitting no apples to be dumped into crates, which results in bruises, and the apples that are not colored enough when picked are placed in the sunlight and girls turn them over from time to time until they get full color."

Cherries Damaged

Damage to apples and peaches from the cold weather during the past several weeks has not been extensive, while the prospects of the cherry crop have been reduced to about 50 per cent due to freezing. That was the summation of reports on freezing made by various growers from different sections of the county.

Harry S. Stoner, of the Orrtanna area; Richard Kuhn, of the Cash-town area; Ryland Garrettson, Bensenville; Glenn Slaybaugh of the Musselman orchards; John Peters, of the county cooperative fruit growers, Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, President Raffensperger, Frank Hewetson and Dr. Fred Lewis of the South Mountain Laboratories all reported on the fruit crop.

They agreed that cherries were hardest hit, with Kuhn reporting a 95 per cent loss in sweet cherries. There was some disagreement on the sour cherry loss with Lewis and Hewetson more optimistic than most of the growers. All were agreed, generally, that there has been little damage so far to peach and apple crops.

Weather Is Helpful

The weather during the present spring season has proven ideal for the development of fungus diseases and insect pests, reports of Dr. R. S. Kirby and J. O. Pepper, of the State college extension staff, disclosed. At the same time the weather has been such that growers were handicapped in their attempt to get into the orchards to spray.

THUMB AMPUTATED

Daniel Morthland, 70, Dillsburg, was treated at the Warner hospital late Thursday afternoon for the amputation of his left thumb which was injured when it was caught under the belt of a corn-shelling machine.

Executive Committee

The following members were elected to the executive board by the five districts which signed the articles of agreement Thursday night:

Gettysburg: Paul M. Rohrbaugh, president of the Gettysburg school board and Dr. R. D. Wickerham.

Cumberland township: Howard D. Waybright and Emory A. Fox.

Freedom township: Hugh H. Adelsberger and Raymond S. Scott.

Highland township: Charles Cluck and Charles A. Wert.

Straban township: Ralph W. Guise and Raymond Selbert.

The members of this executive committee will serve until the first Monday in December, 1948.

At the organization meeting on May 6, both the joint board, which will consist of the school board members of each district included in the jointure, and also the executive board, will elect officers and appoint committees.

NATIONAL GUARD UNIT MARKS 1ST ANNIVERSARY

Adams county's National Guard unit today celebrated its first anniversary with the threat of removal to some other county still hanging over it.

The troop's one difficulty, inspecting officers have said, is its lack of manpower. But so impressive has been the work of its 36 members and so excellent has been the morale of the troop that it has been granted extension after extension on the time by which it must obtain the additional men to bring it up to required strength.

Have 90-Day Extension

A recent inspection brought another 90-day extension to secure enough men to meet the requirements. "The main difficulty seems to be public indifference in Adams county," an official said recently. "Surely no group could have worked harder than the guardsmen to make their troop a success. Their equipment is kept in perfect order, they put vigor and interest into their drills and studies. They work freely on an unpaid basis in order to do a better job. No one more thoroughly deserves the support of the public."

Since the organization was given federal recognition on April 30, 1947, it has increased its membership by 20 and has secured three armored cars.

Times School Ushers Assist Busy Mother

While preparations of The Gettysburg Times' first post-war cooking school were in the final stage and the Hotel Gettysburg annex was being decorated for the event, a brown, grey and white cat, undisturbed by all the excitement, gave birth to kittens in a storage room of the annex.

Now each night as the women thread their way into the annex, mother cat stands on the outside and looks them over to see if they are the type that will harm her offspring.

The ushers, all members of The Gettysburg Times staff, play nursemaid to mother cat and open the door for her whenever she becomes persistent in her efforts to enter the maternity room.

MANY INSPECT OLD PAINTINGS FROM ABROAD

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Lots of folks say they just don't understand art. Some of these folks are in the throngs that flock daily to the National Art Gallery to see the famed old masters from the Berlin museums now on display. (These are pictures that belonged to the Germans before the war—not those stolen from other countries.)

The taxi drivers, government clerks, housewives, honeymooners, school children, farmers say they don't quite "get the pitch," but they like the paintings. They crowd in groups before them. They look at the pictures a long time, as if they were trying hard to understand them or not, the paintings have drawn record crowds to the National Gallery. It is estimated that before they are returned to Germany more than 300,000 persons will have seen them.

The 202 pictures in the collection were found in a salt mine at Merkers, Germany by General Patton's Third Army in 1945. The Army sent the collection to the United States for "safe-keeping until it could be returned to its rightful owners."

There was some protest that the paintings should never have been removed from Germany. The Army argued that it had simply taken the collection into protective custody when it was decided storage conditions in Germany were not satisfactory.

To Be Returned

The paintings are now about to be sent back to Germany. They were put on exhibition by the gallery several weeks ago so that Americans could have the opportunity of seeing them while they were here. The collection is estimated to be worth at least $80,000,000. It includes 15 Rembrandts, five Van Dycks, five Titians, three Raphaels. The Italian paintings are of superlative quality. Among them is Giotto's "Death of the Virgin," the most important panel by Giotto outside of Italy.

One of the most popular paintings in the collection is "The Flemish Proverbs," painted by Pieter Breughel the Elder in Antwerp during the 16th century. It illustrates in an amusing fashion about 100 homely sayings current among the peasants of Flanders at the time.

Capital and Military Police, keeping a wary eye on the paintings, say the visitors also like Rembrandt. They are interested too in the value of the paintings. One MP said "They can't imagine buying one, but they'd sure like to have one to sell."

All but two of the paintings came from the Kaiser Friedrich museum in Berlin, founded by Frederick Wil-

The paintings were shipped by the Army to Le Havre, France, in specially heated cars and crossed the ocean in the air conditioned dining room of an Army transport. They were packed in boxes lined with a newly-invented paper used by the Germans as a precaution against chemical warfare. This minimized changes of temperature and humidity which might otherwise have harmed the pictures.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

American and German officials say that not every farmer is a black marketeer. Many do their best to help the needy town people. But experts say if all the pigs that vanished in 1947 had been legally year.

World's Lowest Rents In USSR

Moscow, April 29 (AP)—Rents in the Soviet Union for Soviet citizens are said to be probably the lowest in the world. The average Soviet family spends not over five per cent of its income on rent.

A Moscow worker pays about $20 per month for his apartment, heat, water, gas, and electricity. For over two decades, rents haven't been raised. The rates are based on income of the highest paid person occupying the given space. There is a maximum above which the rent may not rise. The state owns all large buildings. A worker can own his own home and sometimes it is possible to rent a room or two in a privately owned small home. But the one really important landlord in the USSR is the state.

Luckless Thugs Find Crime Doesn't Pay

Chicago, April 29 (AP)—Robbery has run up against a resistance movement. Two thugs set out on a crime wave that went like this:

They robbed two lone men, but all they got was $12. They met three others, one at a time, and each of the vigorous victims gave them a boxing lesson. A woman put them to rout by screaming.

They took $30 from a truck driver. But the driver smashed his heavy truck against their automobile and they had to leave it in the street. The robbers next tried to take a car from a woman. She felled them by hurling away the keys in the darkness. One of the bandits was caught quickly. He had a black eye and a variety of bruises.

Tuesday's Games
Gettysburg at Shippensburg.
Chambersburg at Hanover.

A double by Yost followed by a single by White Moore gave Hanover High's baseball team a run in the ninth inning after one was out to enable the Nighthawks to nose out the Gettysburg high Maroons 2-1 in South Penn league game played Thursday afternoon at Hanover.

Ronnie Kump and Moore hooked up in a beautiful pitchers' battle and here was little to choose between them. Kump yielded five safeties, fanned 14 and walked but two, Moore was tagged for but two hits while striking out 12 and issuing six passes on balls.

For six innings neither team scored but in the top half of the seventh the Maroons pushed over the run. After Bucher had been called out for stepping on the plate, Eisenhart walked. Knox fanned but Guy Donaldson rapped out a double for the locals' first hit and Eisenhart treaked over. Biesecker grounded out to end the inning.

Hanover came right back to knot the score and send the game into extra innings. After Yost had flied to center. Moore and Pinchhitter Lucebill rapped out hits to produce the tying run.

Coach Shoemaker's lads threatened in the top half of the ninth when Bucher walked and Eisenhart singled but the next two batters went down.

The defeat was the second against many wins for the Maroons.

Next Tuesday the locals will clash with Shippensburg in another league contest at Shippensburg.

Preston Ward, Dodger rookie first baseman, homered with the bases loaded and Pete Reiser drove in five runs with a homer and triple.

Pittsburgh climbed into second place on another fine mound job by the veteran Elmer Riddle. He scattered seven Chicago hits for his second win, 4-2.

Rookie Hank Sauer enjoyed a field day in Cincinnati's 14-inning 5-4 nod over St. Louis. Sauer tied the score with a homer in the eighth and won it in the 14th with a single. He had four hits, boosting his average to .364.

The Wilmington Blue Rocks opened their 1948 campaign with a free scoring 19-1 win over the Harrisburg Senators. Twelve Wilmington batters came to the plate in the second inning which saw 10 runs piled up for the Blue Rocks. Robin Roberts, Wilmington hurler, fanned

Eddie Mayo's error on Don Kolloway's grounder enabled Chicago to down Detroit, 5-4, for their second victory. Catcher Aaron Robinson, had a perfect day for the Sox with three cars, a truck and other equipment such as machine guns, mortars, rifles and carbines. The first step in establishing Troop A of the 104th Mechanized Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron occurred in January, 1947, when a group of local men including several World War II officers met and decided to take advantage of the opportunity of establishing a guard unit here.

NATIONAL GUARD

Recognized Year Ago When the troop actually came into being with formal recognition by the government, Captain Robert L. Scott was in command with the other officers being Lt. William G. Weaver and Lt. John W. Deardorff.

There were sixteen enlisted men at that time: Samuel T. Kessel, Gettysburg R. 2; John D. Lawver, Biglerville R. 2; George H. Loss, Hanover; Grover W. Ridler, West Broadway; William R. Forsythe, Orrtanna; Clair W. Warner, McSherrystown; Burnell E. Warner, McSherrystown; Rankin Godert, Camp Sharpe; Vernon L. Little, Hanover; Charles E. Thomas, Gettysburg R. 4; Donald E. Myers, Orrtanna; Richard H. Finkboner, York street; C. Arthur Brame, Gettysburg; Harold L. Buhman, Chambersburg; Raymond E. Jones, Gettysburg, and Harrison D. Runkle, Gettysburg.

Since then several have had to resign from the guard due to moving to other sections of the country. Several have gone back to the army.

Much Equipment Added A year ago the guardsmen had no mobile equipment, but during the year the outfit has become nearly completely equipped for all reconnaissance work. During the year, Captain Scott resigned and Lieutenant Weaver was named commanding officer.

Most of the men in the unit are veterans of World War II and saw service all over the world. While most are veterans of duty in Europe, many fought in the Pacific. In addition there is a sprinkling of younger men and high school seniors who have joined the outfit to serve their country in that way.

Today's Talk

TIE TO THE OLD

In the course of our brief lifetime we accumulate but few friends who are tried and true. But let us make them ones "without capitation."
The first time I read an excellent book," said Goldsmith, "it is to me as if I had gained a new friend.
When I read over a book I have pursued before, it resembles the meeting with an old one."

It would be well if we cemented ourselves to the simpler ways of our forefathers, who stuck tight to the simpler things of life, the homely virtues and ideas that have had so much to do with the molding of character, and the great country in which we live. Gadgets didn't mean so much to them. And hard work was a cardinal virtue.

Too many of our workers today have their eyes set to getting, instead of giving. There was a time—not so very long ago—when the applicant for a job was willing to do his best and be glad of the chance to work—now such an ap-plicant's first statement is: "How much am I to get?" Worth takes a back seat.

General Eisenhower has said that it is the business of the church to bring about a regeneration in America. This western world was built by men who believed in God, and who came to this new land to establish the right to worship in their own way. The essence of religion is to love and to live peaceably with all nations, as well as with each other. This world needs a new baptism of "the old religion" that has always brought so much hope and happiness into the world.

There is nothing "old fashioned" about common sense and simple living. We need some new doses of it to bring us back to hopeful living.
We need to be anew to the things that brought so much to us in our youth. Honesty, kindness, and consideration for others never wear out. They soothe the soul and give substance to character.

The world is just as full of beauty as it was a thousand years ago. We gain new viewpoints, and there are forever changes going on, but hunger of the heart is as real today as it ever was. To appease and feed it, is the task before us all.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Not Too Fast."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST
The Poet of the People

LABOR

Pound and hammer, day by day,
So the little ones may play.
Work to microscope and rule
For the children's church and school.

Sweep the floors or keep the books,
For the food the mother cooks.
All is labor! At his post
Best is he who does the most.
Poorest he who does the least,
Be he painter, poet, priest.

All is labor! Needed all,
Be the service great or small.
Back of every task there lies
Joys and comforts it supplies.
All the human hand performs
Someone houses, feeds and warms.

Wise the statesman, still he can't
Forge a gear or run the plant.
Thus each separate craft attains
Skill no other service gains.
And in what man's loved ones ask
Ends whatever he has task.

PICKETS CAN'T FORCE BOYCOTT

Washington, April 30 (AP)—Picketing one employer's plant to make him stop doing business with another employer was held illegal today by a National Labor Relations board examiner.

The decision by Sidney Lindner is the first in NLRB history holding that any form of peaceful picketing by union is barred by law.

Lindner said that picketing ordinarily is regarded as a form of free speech—a method of telling the public that a labor dispute exists.

But he said that union action to compel one employer to stop doing business with another is a secondary boycott—banned by the Taft-Hartley Labor act, hence any picketing to enforce such a boycott is illegal too.

Lindner's ruling closely followed another by NLRB Examiner Martin S. Bennett yesterday dealing with 20 days' picket line violence. Bennett held that a union which authorizes picketing must take legal responsibility for any violence that may occur on the picket line.

Both examiners' reports became final and subject to Federal court enforcement—through contempt actions—unless reviews by the five-man National Labor relations board itself are asked by either side within 20 days.

TRIP FOR KIDS
Pottsville, Pa., April 30 (AP)—Five hundred children from nearby Pinegrove are going to take their first train ride tomorrow—a 25-mile journey to Lykens on a bell clanging steam train loaned for the occasion by the Reading company. The trip along with a party at a Lykens park was planned for the children by Chief Burgess Roy Behr of Pinegrove.

PICKETS CAN'T FORCE BOYCOTT

Washington, April 30 (AP)—Picketing one employer's plant to make him stop doing business with another employer was held illegal today by a National Labor Relations board examiner.

The decision by Sidney Lindner is the first in NLRB history holding that any form of peaceful picketing by union is barred by law.

Lindner said that picketing ordinarily is regarded as a form of free speech—a method of telling the public that a labor dispute exists.

But he said that union action to compel one employer to stop doing business with another is a secondary boycott—banned by the Taft-Hartley Labor act; hence any picketing to enforce such a boycott is illegal too.

Lindner's ruling closely followed another by NLRB Examiner Martin S. Bennett yesterday dealing with picket line violence. Bennett held that a union which authorizes picketing must take legal responsibility for any violence that may occur on the picket line.

Both examiners' reports became final and subject to Federal court enforcement—through contempt actions—unless reviews by the five-man National Labor relations board itself are asked by either side within 20 days.

Pottsville, Pa., April 30 (AP)—Five hundred children from nearby Pinegrove are going to take their first train ride tomorrow—a 25-mile journey to Lykens on a bell clanging steam train loaned for the occasion by the Reading company. The trip along with a party at a Lykens park was planned for the children by Chief Burgess Roy Behr of Pinegrove.

Today's Talk

TIE TO THE OLD

In the course of our brief lifetime we accumulate but few friends who are tried and true. But let us make them ones "without capitulation," as Stevenson once remarked. "The first time I read an excellent book," said Goldsmith, "it is to me as if I had gained a new friend. When I read over a book I have pursued before, it resembles the meeting with an old one."

It would be well if we cemented ourselves to the simpler ways of our forefathers, who stuck tight to the simpler things of life, the homely virtues and ideas that have had so much to do with the molding of character, and the great country in which we live. Gadgets didn't mean so much to them. And hard work was a cardinal virtue.

Too many of our workers today have their eyes set to getting, instead of giving. There was a time — not so very long ago — when the applicant for a job was willing to do his best and be glad of the chance to work — now such an applicant's first statement is: "How much am I to get?" Worth takes a back seat.

General Eisenhower has said that it is the business of the church to bring about a regeneration in America. This western world was built by men who believed in God, and who came to this new land to establish the right to worship in their own way. The essence of religion is to love and to live peaceably with all nations, as well as with each other. "This world needs a new baptism of the 'old religion' that has always brought so much hope and happiness into the world."

There is nothing "old fashioned" about common sense and simple living. We need some new doses of it to bring us back to hopeful living. We need to be anew to the things that brought so much to us in our youth. Honestly, kindness, and consideration for others never wear out. They soothe the soul and give substance to character.

The world is just as full of beauty as it was thousands of years ago. We gain nothing by it, and there are forever new things to be seen and heard. The hunger of the soul is never satisfied as it ever was. To appreciate and feed it, is the task before us all.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Not Too Fast."

NEHEMIAH REBUILDS JERUSALEM
By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D.D.
Margaret C. Gold

Nehemiah 4:1-6, 13-14, 21-22; 6:15-16
Memory selection: So we built the wall . . . for the people had a mind to work—Nehemiah 4:6

Nearly a hundred years had elapsed since the first group of Jewish exiles had returned to Jerusalem but very little of the city had been restored except the Temple because they were constantly annoyed by their enemy neighbors. It was necessary to fortify the city in order to preserve their racial life and religion. A new wall would give it the importance and prestige it deserved and provide military defense for the community. Whom did God choose to direct this work? Nehemiah, a devout Jew who served as cupbearer to Artaxerxes, king of Persia.

It happened that Hanani, Nehemiah's brother; and others from Judah arrived at the palace in Susa after a long journey and told Nehemiah of the unfortunate conditions there. Those who had returned in high hopes to the Holy City were discouraged, had experienced hard times and the walls and gates of the city still lay in ruins. With grief in his heart Nehemiah poured out a prayer to God to bless and protect his people and to favor his plan. One day Artaxerxes noticed his sadness so the trusted cupbearer had an opportunity to ask for a leave of absence to return and rebuild the walls. The king graciously consented, appointed Nehemiah governor of Jerusalem, provided him with a military escort and an order for timber for the undertaking. This occurred about the year 445 B.C. and 13 years after Ezra had left with the second group of exiles.

Nehemiah's Account
The Book of Nehemiah is mostly autobiographical and is a vivid account of the author's daring and courageous task of rebuilding the walls against intrigue and treachery. It also tells how Ezra and Nehemiah accomplished a number of reforms. They abolished usury and prohibited intermarriage with the surrounding heathen tribes. Every chapter eloquently expresses the character of Nehemiah—both the man of prayer and the resourceful man of action. He was a true patriot for he relinquished the comforts and security of court life in Persia to serve his people and his God. The historian Josephus says of Nehemiah: "He was a man of good and righteous character, and every ambition to make his own nation happy; and he hath left the walls of Jerusalem as an eternal monument to himself."

Courageous Leader
Nehemiah possessed all the qualities of a good leader. He was courageous, unselfish, faithful, wise and energetic. Through faith, endurance and ever guarding against disturbing influences he succeeded in completing a major building operation in a comparatively short time—just 52 days. As a civil governor he had other duties to perform and did not announce his intention of rebuilding the walls when he first arrived at Jerusalem. Then, at night and alone, he made a complete inspection of the walls and gates before announcing his plans and soliciting the people's help. When the Jews understood that both God and the king favored this enterprise, they said, "Let us rise up and build." Nehemiah's faith was contagious. Nehemiah was also an able and practical administrator which is shown in the way he handled men, divided the workers into shifts, provided guards for defense and ordered all the laborers to remain within the city walls until the task was accomplished. No doubt the foundations of the old wall were there and plenty of loose stone near at hand which was a help. Since the gates had been burned, new ones were constructed. A long list of the workmen is given in the Book of Nehemiah. Even goldsmiths and perfumers were pressed into service.

Prayer and Effort
This new and vigorous leader put heart into his fellow workers by his public confessions of faith. He often turned to God in prayer to aid their daily toil. Not all of us have the native ability of Nehemiah, but we would do well to emulate his constancy and faith.

In the lesson the indignation of Sanballat, the Samaritan, and Tobiah, the influential Ammonite is expressed. They thought they could frighten Nehemiah and the Jews by a threatened attack and cause them to stop building. When that failed, they tried ridicule. In every situation Nehemiah was master as he simply ignored all the enemy intrigues and calls for conferences by saying, "I am doing a great work and cannot come down." Nehemiah's men worked steadily from sunrise till dark and never took off their clothing except to be washed. Evidently there were no strikes then. Half of the guard worked on the wall while the other half were ready with spears and bows to defend the laborers in case of attack. In this heroic undertaking Nehemiah was sustained by the consciousness that he had the Lord's approval and support. His great abilities made possible a notable achievement in Hebrew history.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

350 Students Take Part in May Day Fete: All plans have been made for the annual May Day program, which will be held on the Gettysburg high school athletic field Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the physical education classes of the high school. The fete this year will be known as a "Roman Play Day."

Richard Everhart and Miss Jessie Appler will reign as emperor and empress, having been elected to that honor by the high school student body.

Approximately three hundred and fifty students will participate in the festivities. Boys will appear in white gym suits while the girls will be garbed in blue attire.

Music will be furnished by the high school band under the direction of Edwin Longanecker.

George Forney and Miss Rhelda Green are in charge of the program. The train of the emperor and empress, composed of members of the senior Latin class, is in charge of Mrs. Anna B. Heintzelman, Latin instructor.

General Eisenhower has said that it is the business of the church to bring about a regeneration in America. This western world was built by men who believed in God, and who came to this new land to establish the right to worship in their own way. The essence of religion is to love and to live peaceably with all nations, as well as with each other. "This world needs a new baptism of the 'old religion' that has always brought so much hope and happiness into the world."

There is nothing "old fashioned" about common sense and simple living. We need some new doses of it to bring us back to hopeful living. We need to be anew to the things that brought so much to us in our youth. Honestly, kindness, and consideration for others never wear out. They soothe the soul and give substance to character.

The world is just as full of beauty as it was thousands of years ago. We gain nothing by it, and there are forever new things to be seen and heard. The hunger of the soul is never satisfied as it ever was. To appreciate and feed it, is the task before us all.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Not Too Fast."

LABOR

Pound and hammer, day by day,
So the little ones may play.
Work to microscope and rule
For the children's church and school.
Stand at lathe and forge for hours,
For a little garden's flowers.

Sweep the floors or keep the books,
For the food the mother cooks.
All is labor! At his post,
Best is he who does the most.
Poorest he who does the least,
Be he painter, poet, priest.

All is labor! Needed all,
Be the service great or small.
Back of every task there lies
Joys and comforts it supplies.
All the human hand performs
Someone's houses, feeds and warms.

Wise the statesman, still he can't
Forge a gear or run the plant.
Thus each separate craft attains
Skill no other service gains.
And in what man's loved ones ask
Ends whatever be his task.

Audience: A fair-sized audience witnessed the performance of "Where's Peter?", a comedy, presented by the senior class of Gettysburg high school in the high school auditorium Friday evening.

Miss Mary Louise Dougherty gave a particularly impressive performance. Gordon Davies, Miss Mildred Shoop, Miss Helen Cline, Miss Kathleen Black and Murray Prazee performed creditably in the leading roles.

Other members of the cast were: Samuel Ziegler, Mary Nau, Kenneth Hull, Harold Raffensperger and Harold Beattie.

Miss Ruth A. McIlhenny, director of the play, and Miss Ruth Scott, senior class sponsor, were presented with flowers between acts by Kenneth Hull, class president. Harold Beattie was given a token for having sold the most tickets for the play.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY OUSTING RED ADHERENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Hostility to Communism's ruthless aggression continues to grow apace in the Democracies, and among the many striking evidences of this is the British Socialist party's purge of extreme Leftist members in the House of Commons.

John Bull's Socialists are, on the whole, middle-of-the-road politically but until recently had regarded their left wing with considerable toleration.

But the leadership of the British labor (Socialist) party "saw red" house-cleaning which the Socialists when left-wing members in Parliament sent a telegram to Pietro Nenni, leader of pro-Communist Italian Socialists, wishing them success in the elections. The aggression was doubly severe since the message was counter to the British party policy of supporting anti-Communists in the election.

Expel Ringleader
John Platts-Mills, regarded as ringleader in sending the message, has been expelled from the party. This doesn't deprive him of his seat in Commons, but excludes him from caucuses and deprives him of party support if he is a candidate again. Twenty-one other members whose names appeared on the message were warned to affirm their loyalty to the party by May 6 or face further action. Another 15 have already retracted or have denied signing the telegram.

That is the most sensational labor (Socialist) party "saw red" house-cleaning which the Socialists

Jointure

Superintendent Charles I. Raffensperger recommended that the same officers be chosen for both, to avoid separate meetings, separate sets of secretary's books, etc.

The county office also recommended that Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of the Gettysburg schools, be elected supervising principal of the jointure. Slaybaugh also suggested that before the May 6 meeting school boards discuss the salary to be paid Dr. Keefe as supervising principal and be prepared to fix this salary on that date.

The articles of agreement were signed by the five participating school boards as presented at the previous meeting with one section deleted.

Share Transportation

The Gettysburg school board held a meeting in the superintendent's office prior to the jointure meeting, and voted to delete the section which had provided that each district would be responsible for its pro rata share of the transportation costs.

Districts receive reimbursement from the state for transportation. Each separate district will continue to receive reimbursement. The checks, however, will be turned into the general fund of the jointure, which in turn will also assume jointly any difference between state reimbursement and actual cost of transportation.

At the present time Gettysburg transports no pupils and has no transportation bill, but under the new arrangement, will pay its share in the jointure transportation costs. All existing contracts for school buses will be voided as of July 1, the county office said and new contracts made. County Superintendent Slaybaugh also said that all teachers would be "fired" as of July 1, and "re-hired" on a rating basis and seniority.

have undertaken since they came to power in '45. It's a fair example of the position being taken by the Socialist countries of western Europe as a whole.

Reds Run Alone

This is further emphasized in an AP news dispatch from London, reporting that there will be a sharp cleavage in tomorrow's May Day celebrations in the Democratic countries of western Europe. The Reds will have to celebrate on their own, for the Socialists and moderate laborites are giving the Communists the cold shoulder and are holding separate demonstrations.

Meantime, of course, most of the Western Hemisphere has turned

BRITISH LABOR PARTY OUSTING RED ADHERENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Hostility to Communism's ruthless aggression continues to grow apace in the Democracies, and among the many striking evidences of this is the British Socialist party's purge of extreme Leftist members in the House of Commons.

John Bull's Socialists are, on the whole, middle-of-the-road politically but until recently had regarded their left wing with considerable toleration.

But the leadership of the British labor (Socialist) party "saw red" that house-cleaning which the Socialists when left-wing members in Parliament sent a telegram to Pietro Nenni, leader of pro-Communist Italian Socialists, wishing them success in the elections. The aggression was doubly severe since the message was counter to the British party policy of supporting anti-Communists in the election.

Expel Ringleader

John Platts-Mills, regarded as ringleader in sending the message, has been expelled from the party. This doesn't deprive him of his seat in Commons, but excludes him from caucuses and deprives him of party support if he is a candidate again. Twenty-one other members whose names appeared on the message were warned to affirm their loyalty to the party by May 6 or face further action. Another 15 have already retracted or have denied signing the telegram.

That is the most sensational labor (Socialist) party "saw red" house-cleaning which the Socialists

Superintendent Charles I. Raffensberger recommended that the same officers be chosen for both, to avoid separate meetings, separate sets of secretary's books, etc.

The county office also recommended that Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of the Gettysburg schools, be elected supervising principal of the jointure. Slaybaugh also suggested that before the May 6 meeting school boards discuss the salary to be paid Dr. Keefe as supervising principal and be prepared to fix this salary on that date.

The articles of agreement were signed by the five participating school boards as presented at the previous meeting with one section deleted.

Share Transportation

The Gettysburg school board held a meeting in the superintendent's office prior to the jointure meeting, and voted to delete the section which had provided that each district would be responsible for its pro rata share of the transportation costs.

Districts receive reimbursement from the state for transportation. Each separate district will continue to receive reimbursement. The checks, however, will be turned into the general fund of the jointure, which in turn will assume jointly any difference between state reimbursement and actual cost of transportation.

At the present time Gettysburg transports no pupils and has no transportation bill, but under the new arrangement, will pay its share in the jointure transportation costs.

All existing contracts for school buses will be voided as of July 1, the county office said and new contracts made. County Superintendent Slaybaugh also said that all teachers would be "fired" as of July 1, and "re-hired" on a rating basis and seniority.

have undertaken since they came to power in '45. It's a fair example of the position being taken by the Socialist countries of western Europe as a whole.

Reds Run Alone

This is further emphasized in an AP news dispatch from London, reporting that there will be a sharp cleavage in tomorrow's May Day celebrations in the Democratic countries of western Europe. The Reds will have to celebrate on their own, for the Socialists and moderate laborites are giving the Communists the cold shoulder and are holding separate demonstrations.

Meantime, of course, most of the Western Hemisphere has turned

KEY POWERS IN EUROPE TO MAP STRATEGY

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Key European powers will have to work out their own grand strategy of defense against Russia.

Until that is done any final decision on the kind and exact scope of American military backing for western Europe is unlikely.

This became evident today on the basis of information from both diplomatic and administration officials. They agree that in planning what amounts to a military alliance the American government must know exactly where, how and with what forces the Europeans intend to set up their own defenses.

No Increase Now

At the moment there is no indication of any plan to increase the United States forces now in Europe. One of the problems before the meeting of western European union defense ministers opening in London today undoubtedly is the amount of manpower which the five nations in this union can provide for a permanent defense arrangement.

These five nations are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Italy is expected to join their ranks soon.

Intended As Warning

While waiting for precise plans to take form abroad, however, the shapers of this country's bipartisan foreign policy are considering a pre-

SAY TRUMAN TO VETO GOP MOVE ON ATOM JOBS

By JACK BELL

Washington, April 30 (AP)—President Truman is reported today to have told Democratic lawmakers he will veto any Republican attempt to limit the jobs of Atomic Energy commissioners to two years or less.

These legislators said Mr. Truman is ready—if necessary—to make a campaign issue of his fight for a full five-year term for Chairman David E. Lilienthal. Other members were named by what the President said was agreement among themselves, for four, three, two and one year terms.

Democratic leaders are said to feel that they may be able to make campaign capital out of accusing the GOP of political tampering with the atomic setup.

age was reported. The weather has been ideal for apple scab development and five scab infection periods have occurred so far. The cool, wet weather has allowed scab spores to keep on forming; a general increase in brown rot has been noted due to the wet weather; bacterial leaf spot has been found in peach orchards in the Mt. Tabor-Gardners area; and cedar trees have been found well loaded with cedar apple rust.

Recommend Sprays

European red mite are about all hatched; codling moth are in the pupae stage, with moths expected to hatch within the next few days; a few oriental fruit moths have been seen and plant bugs and stink bugs are a problem, according to Pepper and Kirby. The only bright spots reported were that curculio seems not as prevalent as usual and parasites have killed off a lot of the aphids, making that situation better than it was April 1.

A number of spray materials were recommended. Spray letters will be sent out in the near future containing the program suggested for use at this time.

Frederic E. Griest reported on the National Peach Council meeting held in St. Louis in February. A feature of that meeting was the report on marketing problems made by Adams county's John Peters, Griest said. He also reported that a committee has been appointed to make a new definition for No. 1 peaches and for immature peaches. These definitions, if completed in time, will be used in grading peaches this fall. If the committee cannot complete its work by that time the grades will be used starting next year.

Check With Cannery

Growers were warned by Pepper to check with the processing plant to which they plan to sell peaches before using benzene hexachloride as a spray material. While experiments in Pennsylvania have shown only that the benzene hexachloride does a good job of wiping out fruit enemies, and has shown no loss due to off flavor peaches, some canneries claim that the material causes peaches to lose their flavor and those canneries refuse to buy peaches from orchards in which the material has been used, Pepper reported.

A field day committee comprising Harold Steiner, Robert Lott, William Lott, Oliver Heacock, M. T. Hartman, William Oyler, Ralph Tyson, Glenn Slaybaugh, F. E. Griest, Jr., Frank Hewettson and Dr. Fred Lewis was directed to meet next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Biglerville.

One hundred and seventy-five members of the association were present for the session.

Vinson Gavel Virtual "Shut Up" Order Ending Taft-Hartley Case Hearing

DRAMATIC END TO HIGH COURT TEST ON LAW

By PAUL M. YOST

Washington, April 30 (AP)—An angered Chief Justice Vinson, his gavel banging out virtual "shut up" orders, brought to a dramatic close yesterday the Supreme court's first hearing of a Taft-Hartley act test case.

Vinson, squirming in his high-backed chair, at Associate Justice Frankfurter's questioning of a CIO lawyer, broke into the attorney's reply to say emphatically:

"Your time has expired!"

That sharp statement amounted to an order to attorney Lee Pressman to "shut up and sit down." It also told Frankfurter in effect to "shut up"—the presiding justice wants no more questions and no more answers.

The tense moments that followed were almost without precedent in the cathedral-like tribunal.

Frankfurter had been contending that the government and CIO had joined hands to bring before the court a case involving constitutionality of the labor act's ban on political spending by unions.

Intentional Violation

The CIO, which maneuvered the test by an intentional violation, and the government, which is defending the spending ban, had been allotted a total of two hours for oral arguments.

The white signal light indicating five minutes of time left had long since turned to red. But Frankfurter persisted in his questioning.

When Vinson stepped in, the CIO lawyer looked at Frankfurter, bowed to the chief justice and sat down.

But Jesse Climenko, a special assistant to Attorney General Clark, jumped to his feet. He had sat silently through Frankfurter's questioning of Pressman and CIO Attorney Charles J. Margiotti. But now he called to Vinson for recognition.

"Your Time Has Expired"

The usually calm chief justice bit his lips, then said once again: "Your time has expired."

Climenko nevertheless began, "I deplore the accusation—"

Vinson's face turned white. He pounded his gavel. In cold tone and measured words he said for a third time: "Your time has expired!"

Climenko retreated.

The usually hushed courtroom was in momentary confusion. But Vinson quickly called the next case and order returned.

What He Deplored

Climenko told newsmen outside the courtroom that what he had tried to say was this: "I deplore the fact that I have lived to see the day when such a suggestion should be made—a suggestion of pre-arrangement."

Frankfurter had stressed his contention that the CIO and the government had cooperated to get an early Supreme court ruling. His interpretation of the legal situation confronting the justices was that the tribunal has been asked to decide a constitutional issue on abstract questions, rather than on an actual argument.

Federal Judge Ben Moore of Charleston, W. Va.—Sitting in U. S. District court here on March 15—ruled the political spending ban unconstitutional. Moore thereupon dismissed indictments against the CIO and its president, Philip Murray.

Capacity Crowd

The indictments charged Murray and the CIO violated the ban by publishing in the weekly CIO news an endorsement of a Baltimore Democrat seeking election to Congress. Moore's decision was appealed to the Supreme court by the government.

The case attracted a capacity crowd of attorneys and spectators

because of its importance to the coming national election. Union leaders have planned to take an active part in the campaign if Judge Moore's ruling stands.

But Thursday's flareup led some court observers to speculate that the case may not be decided finally before the high tribunal adjourns in June for its summer vacation.

The 23,941,000 people eligible to vote in the 1948 United States Presidential election exceed those eligible in 1940 by 10 million.

Two hundred women are now serving in 48 state legislatures in the United States.

CONTESTS BEGIN AT OIL CITY

Oil City, April 30 (AP)—Nearly 5,000 Pennsylvania high school students were in this Venango county community today for the second day's events of the three-day annual state music and forensic league contest.

Although competition began yesterday afternoon, only seven contests were held. The remaining 72 fill today's and tomorrow's schedules.

All public schools in Oil City are closed today, so that their facilities may be used for the contests. In addition, seven churches and the public auditorium will be used.

Mass band competitions will be held tomorrow on the athletic field. The entire program of the three-day event is under General Supervision of H. C. Mitchell, Oil City musical director.

Practically the entire town has been given over to the visitors. Hotel facilities are nearly bursting at the seams and hundreds of private citizens last night put up many of the young and talented contestants.

The participants advanced to the state finals here by winning regional contests. For those they had qualified by taking local and county honors.

Vinson Gavel Virtual "Shut Up" Order Ending Taft-Hartley Case Hearing

DRAMATIC END TO HIGH COURT TEST ON LAW

By PAUL M. YOST

Washington, April 30 (AP)—An angered Chief Justice Vinson, his gavel banging out virtual "shut up" orders, brought to a dramatic close yesterday the Supreme court's first hearing of a Taft-Hartley act test case.

Vinson, squirming in his high-backed chair at Associate Justice Frankfurter's questioning of a CIO lawyer, broke into the attorney's reply to say emphatically:

"Your time has expired!"

That sharp statement amounted to an order to attorney Lee Pressman to "shut up and sit down." It also told Frankfurter in effect to "shut up"—the presiding justice wants no more questions and no more answers.

The tense moments that followed were almost without precedent in the cathedral-like tribunal.

Frankfurter had been contending that the government and CIO had joined hands to bring before the court a case involving constitutionality of the labor act's ban on political spending by unions.

Intentional Violation

The CIO, which maneuvered the test by an intentional violation, and the government, which is defending the spending ban, had been allotted a total of two hours for oral arguments.

The white signal light indicating five minutes of time left had long since turned to red. But Frankfurter persisted in his questioning.

When Vinson stepped in, the CIO lawyer looked at Frankfurter, bowed to the chief justice and sat down.

But Jesse Climenko, a special assistant to Attorney General Clark, jumped to his feet. He had sat silently through Frankfurter's questioning of Pressman and CIO Attorney Charles J. Margiotti. But now he called to Vinson for recognition.

"Your Time Has Expired"

The usually calm chief justice bit his lips, then said once again:

"Your time has expired."

Climenko nevertheless began, "I deplore the accusation—"

Climenko retreated. The usually hushed courtroom was in momentary confusion. But Vinson quickly called the next case and order returned.

What He Deplored

Climenko told newsmen outside the courtroom that what he had tried to say was this: "I deplore the fact that I have lived to see the day when such a suggestion should be made—a suggestion of pre-arrangement."

Frankfurter had stressed his contention that the CIO and the government had cooperated to get an early Supreme court ruling. His interpretation of the legal situation confronting the justices was that the tribunal has been asked to decide a constitutional issue on abstract questions, rather than on an actual argument.

Federal Judge Ben Moore of Charleston, W. Va.—Sitting in U. S. District court here on March 15—ruled the political spending ban unconstitutional. Moore thereupon dismissed indictments against the CIO and its president, Philip Murray.

Capacity Crowd

The indictments charged Murray and the CIO violated the ban by publishing in the weekly CIO news an endorsement of a Baltimore Democrat seeking election to Congress. Moore's decision was appealed to the Supreme court by the government.

The case attracted a capacity crowd of attorneys and spectators

because of its importance to the coming national election. Union leaders have planned to take an active part in the campaign if Judge Moore's ruling stands.

But Thursday's flareup led some court observers to speculate that the case may not be decided finally before the high tribunal adjourns in June for its summer vacation.

The 83,941,000 people eligible to vote in the 1948 United States Presidential election exceed those eligible in 1940 by 10 million.

Two hundred women are now serving in 48 state legislatures in the United States.

CONTESTS BEGIN AT OIL CITY

Oil City, April 30 (AP)—Nearly 5,000 Pennsylvania high school students were in this Venango county community today for the second day's events of the three-day annual state music and forensic league contest.

Although competition began yesterday afternoon, only seven contests were held. The remaining 72 fill today's and tomorrow's schedules.

All public schools in Oil City are closed today, so that their facilities may be used for the contests. In

KEY POWERS IN EUROPE TO MAP STRATEGY

B. JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, April 30 (AP) — Key European powers will have to work out their own grand strategy of defense against Russia.

Until that is done any final decision on the kind and exact scope of American military backing for western Europe is unlikely.

This became evident today on the basis of information from both diplomatic and administration officials.

They agree that in planning what amounts to a military alliance the American government must know exactly where, how and with what forces the Europeans intend to set up their own defenses.

No Increase Now
At the moment there is no indication of any plan to increase the United States forces now in Europe.

One of the problems before the meeting of western European union defense ministers opening in London today undoubtedly is the amount of manpower which the five nations in this union can provide for a permanent defense arrangement.

These five nations are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Italy is expected to join their ranks soon.

Intended As Warning
While waiting for precise plans to take form abroad, however, the shapers of this country's bipartisan foreign policy are considering a pre-

SAY TRUMAN TO VETO GOP MOVE ON ATOM JOBS

By JACK BELL
Washington, April 30 (AP) — President Truman is reported today to have told Democratic lawmakers he will veto any Republican attempt to liminary test of Congressional sentiment on the principle of eventual American support.

Probably significant, however, is that this government's current military policy appears to be based primarily on three main ideas: (1) To prepare for the defense of the American continents and their air and sea approaches, (2) To develop an ability to strike back (by air initially, at the heart of any aggressor nation, and (3) To prepare for the swift mobilization of powerful land forces in the event of a war emergency.

American military strategy at the moment, therefore, is designed not to provide direct protection to western Europe, but rather to warn the Russians of a threat of war by the United States if the Soviets should move aggressively.

GROWERS TOLD

age was reported. The weather has been ideal for apple scab development and five scab infection periods have occurred so far. The cool, wet weather has allowed scab spores to keep on forming; a general increase in brown rot has been noted due to the wet weather; bacterial leaf spot has been found in peach orchards in the Mt. Tabor-Gardners area; and cedar trees have been found well loaded with cedar apple rust.

Recommend Sprays
European red mite are about all hatched; codling moth are in the pupae stage, with moths expected to hatch within the next few days; a few oriental fruit moths have been seen and plant bugs and stink bugs are a problem, according to Pepper and Kirby. The only bright spots reported were that curculio seems not as prevalent as usual and parasites have killed off a lot of the aphids, making that situation better than it was April 1.

A number of spray materials were recommended. Spray letters will be sent out in the near future containing the program suggested for use at this time.

Frederic E. Griest reported on the National Peach Council meeting held in St. Louis in February. A feature of that meeting was the report on marketing problems made by Adams county's John Peters, Griest said. He also reported that a committee has been appointed to make a new definition for No. 1 peaches and for immature peaches. These definitions, if completed in time, will be used in grading peaches this fall. If the committee cannot complete its work by that time the grades will be used starting next year.

Check With Cannery
Growers were warned by Pepper to check with the processing plant to which they plan to sell peaches before using benzene hexachloride as a spray material. While experiments in Pennsylvania have shown only that the benzene hexachloride does a good job of wiping out fruit enemies, and has shown no loss due to off flavor peaches, some canneries claim that the material causes peaches to lose their flavor and those canneries refuse to buy peaches from orchards in which the material has been used, Pepper reported.

A field day committee comprising Harold Steiner, Robert Lott, William Lott, Oliver Heacock, M. T. Hartman, William Oyler, Ralph Tyson, Glenn Slaybaugh, F. E. Griest, Jr., Frank Hewettson and Dr. Fred Lewis was directed to meet next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Biglerville.

One hundred and seventy-five members of the association were present for the session.

OPPOSE USING TATTOOING ON BABES IN U.S.

Washington, April 30 (AP)—The U. S. Office of Vital Statistics wants to make clear that it does NOT favor tattooing number on all babies born in this country after January 1, 1949. It seems a lot of folks got that idea, and other ideas just as out-of-this-world, when the Office backed a proposal for standardizing the numbering of birth certificates in the states.

The standardization project was generally agreed upon by state registrars of vital statistics in a "work conference" sponsored by the statistics office here in March. The idea is merely to make the registration of all births in the United States "simpler, more positive and cheaper" by a standard method adopted by all the states. There would not be a central federal file of birth registrations, and the project if carried through depends entirely on the states' adoption of the system.

Montana and the District of Columbia have already voiced approval of the idea and other states are following suit, says Herbert P. Dunning, acting chief of the Office of Vital Statistics. He says that although there are approximately 3,750,000 births in the United States annually, it would take more than a generation to get an appreciable portion of the population included in the newly-numbered group. If the project goes through it will be done this way with three groups of figures printed on each birth certificate.

Three Groups of Figures

1. The first serial will consist of three figures indicating the registration area in which a child is born. The first figure will be the numeral 1, which will stand for United States. The second number, or second and third number, will represent the state, territory or city. (Canada uses a similar system. Its serial numbers start with "2." If other nations join the system they will use "3," "4," etc.).

2. The second serial will consist of

Winning Contests On Radio Is Art

Washington, April 30 (AP)—Contesting is as much an art as cooking, says Mrs. Florence Marshall Stellwagon, who has just entered her 1,000th radio contest and has won so many contest prizes she's lost count. Mrs. Stellwagon says contesting has a "language" all its own, magazines devoted to its activities and correspondence schools aimed at initiating the beginner.

There are long lists of people waiting to enroll in Mrs. Stellwagon's classes on contesting at the local Young Women's Christian Association. Mrs. Stellwagon began entering contests 20 years ago. She contributed slogans, jingles, testimonials. Prizes began rolling in. The best prize she ever won, she says, is her husband. She met him because they both were interested in jingles.

two digits, indicating the year of birth—'49—'50—'58 and so on. Births are already filed and indexed by year in most registration offices throughout the country. 3. The third serial will list six digits, indicating whether the registration lists the first, fortieth, 600th, or 999,999th certificate to be filed in the state within the year.

Mr. Dunning says that most people will accumulate from five to 25 numbers in a lifetime anyway—Social Security numbers, numbers on driver's licenses, insurance policies, bank accounts and charge accounts.

READING TRACKS ARE BLOCKED

Pottstown, Pa., April 30 (AP)—Six cars of a ten-car freight train were derailed today at nearby Linfield, blocking all four tracks of the Reading's main line from Philadelphia to New York, a Reading spokesman said.

Reading officials said no one was injured, but said that no trains would be able to move over the line until late this afternoon. Meanwhile all Reading trains were being re-routed over the Pennsylvania railroad's tracks.

The pile up occurred right in the town of Linfield, a community of 800, the Reading officials said. Of the six cars that jumped the track, two tank cars overturned, a Reading spokesman said.

James Burnett, freight conductor of Conshohocken, said he was aware something was wrong with the train about 200 yards before the first car jumped the track. He was unable to determine what caused the derailment, however.

The train was traveling on the westbound inner track of four, all of which were torn up by the wreck. Reading workmen began clearing the two outer tracks first.

Bus service was arranged by the Reading company for passengers

How to Fall in Love in one easy lesson

TAKE a clear day—a Dynaflo* Buick—and a mind open to new experiences.

Turn the key in the lock—press down the gas treadle—and set this mighty Fireball straight-eight purring. Now:

Flick the selector lever till the pointer indicates "D"—that's for driving. Feed a little gas—and see what happens.

Smoothly, you slip away from the curb. Silently you build up momentum. Effortlessly you cruise at whatever pace your treadle toe selects.

Look! you say. A stop light! What do I do?

Nothing special. Let up on the gas. Apply the foot brake as you need it.

That all? Won't the engine stall? Don't I shift?

That's all. Your engine won't stall. You don't shift. Just sit there till the coast is clear. Then step on it. Step hard and you're off like a rabbit. Step lightly, and you ease smoothly away.

What's happening? you want to know. What's doing the shifting? Some mechanical hand under the floor boards?

Not in this car, sir. Oil does it all—spinning oil. Oil whirling to give you starting surge—power build-up—efficient cruising—engine braking effect on hills.

Oil that does everything the usual low, second and high gears do—without any gearshifting on your part—and without the slightest break in your stride except when you want it.

What's Different About DYNAFLOW DRIVE?

To an efficient new pump (left below), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boasting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

SEE NEW HOPE IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST BORER

Washington, April 30 (AP)—A worm is Public Enemy No. 1 to the Department of Agriculture.

It is the European corn borer, which caused an estimated $97,000,000 damage in 28 states last year. Eight years ago damage was only about $7,000,000.

So far the borer has defied all efforts to check its spread, but the Department has mapped a five-point control program which it hopes to see put into operation on a community-by-community basis this year.

The boll weevil, experts say, never posed a greater threat to cotton than the borer to corn. Besides, corn is planted on more acreage, is worth more in dollars and has a greater diversity of by-products than any other two crops combined.

Damage caused by the borer increased from 1943 to $33,000,000 and in 1946 to $37,000,000. Dr. P. N. Annand, chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, says an "intensified effort calling for the all-out cooperation of all farmers with state and federal agencies is necessary if the insect is to be brought under control and its damage checked."

Discovered In 1917
The corn borer first was discovered in the United States in 1917. It caused severe damage that year to sweet corn around Boston.

Annand says evidence indicates the worm was imported from Hungary or Italy between 1909 and 1914, before any quarantine inspection service had been authorized at ports.

By 1940 it had spread to states bordering the Great Lakes, gone north into Maine and moved southward along the Atlantic Coast to Virginia.

Today it is found in 1,052 counties in 28 states. 94 counties in 11 states reported new infestations last year. Now it infests part of North Carolina and Tennessee and has moved as far west as North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas.

Many states are planning community meetings to spread up-to-date information on control methods.

The Department of Agriculture suggests these:

1. Plow under old corn stalks and stubble, shred or ensilage corn stalks used for feed, destroy corn remnants in barnyards and elsewhere.

2. Plant varieties of corn recommended for respective communities. Locally adapted hybrids can be expected to give highest yields and quality.

3. Plant on dates recommended by agricultural agents.

Watch For Eggs
4. Look for eggs laid by corn borer moth on the underside of leaves on tallest corn and start insecticide treatment as soon as eggs begin to hatch. (Frequent examinations are recommended in May, June and July.)

5. Use insecticides when it is determined they will be profitable. (County agricultural agents are prepared to advise on what, when and how to use.)

The corn borer, which usually becomes about an inch long, begins as an egg laid by a moth and himself becomes a moth after he has done his boring damage. Hatched as a tiny worm, he tunnels his way into the stalk which usually weakens and breaks. He feasts, too, on the ears of the corn, even gnawing the cob.

As he nears maturity he bores into the stalk and spins a thin cocoon about himself, becomes a pupa and emerges later as a moth.

FIELD DAY FOR GENEALOGISTS

Washington, April 30 (AP)—It was something to give genealogists pause when a dozen or more patriotic societies, each claiming to out-ancestor the other, met here at the same time that the Daughters of the American Revolution held their annual meeting. Members of most of the groups, which were also holding annual meetings, are DARs. They were covering two or more conventions with one trip.

There was the Order of the Crown, for instance, and the National Society of Americans of Royal Descent. Members of the first have to prove descent from a crowned head of Europe. The second is made up of persons who can definitely establish their connection with the royal houses of Europe. Then there was the Society of the Daughters of the Barons of Runnymede. This society boasts a membership of 875 "proven" lineal descendants of 36 of the 24 barons who 733 years ago gathered on the meadows of Runnymede, England, and for King John to sign the Magna Carta. A committee of this society is formed for those who claim their forebears were knights of the Bath or knights or ladies of the Garter.

Also meeting here were Daughters of American Colonists, descended from folks who came over and patented land before the Revolutionary War, and Women Descendants of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company. This group was formed in Boston, Mass., but stems from a group organized in London, way back. Then there was the Order of the First Families of Virginia and the Society of Descendants of Lords of the Maryland Manors. The last

ATOMIC ENERGY LIKE PYRAMID; MANY INVOLVED

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, April 30 (AP)—President Truman speaks of this country's "gigantic" atomic energy program.

He did this yesterday in a statement urging the Senate to keep the five members of the Atomic Energy Commission in their jobs for up to five years.

In the first place, this country so far has spent about $3,000,000,000 in developing atomic weapons and other uses of the atom.

To get a wide view, think of a pyramid. On the peak sit the five atomic energy commissioners.

They're the big boys. The pyramid has four sides: Medicine, biology, farming, industry. Atomic work is going on in all four of those fields.

And deep within the pyramid, highly secret work is being done on atomic weapons.

Thousands Employed
The five commissioners have a staff of about 5,000 people, directly employed by them. They're the administrative group, or overseers, to keep the whole show running.

About 300 companies—including some of the biggest, like General Electric—have been given contracts by the commission to carry out and develop various parts of the program.

These big contractors have about 60,000 people working on atomic problems.

In turn, the contractors parcel out bits of their jobs to several thousand sub-contractors, who employ thousands of people.

In addition to all this, 53 American universities are directly taking part in atomic work. Others are taking part indirectly, which means a great many scientists working.

The big centers for atomic work are at:

Oak Ridge, Tenn.; Hanford, Wash.; Los Alamos, N. M.; The Argonne National Laboratory, Chicago; The Brookhaven National Laboratory, Patchogue, L. I., N. Y.

Spread Through Country
So, the atomic work spreads all through the country.

The four sides of the pyramid—medicine, biology, farming and industry—were mentioned above. This will show a little of the work being done in those fields.

Medicine—atomic scientists have found that cobalt, treated in a certain way, can be used as a substitute for radium in doctoring cancer, and is far cheaper.

Biology and farming—these fields often overlap. For example: In studying how plants use fertilizer.

Some of the secrets of life may come out of the work being done in those two fields. For instance, if the scientists can find how plants use the energy of the sun.

Industry—work is being done to find a way of using atomic energy to give power. Such power, if found and harnessed, could run ships or cities.

group has about 72 members. One of its officers is descended from Lord Nathaniel Truman, who was given authority by royal charter to establish a manor in southern Maryland. This Nathaniel Truman, says the officer-member, is in relation to Harry Truman.

The Descendants of Lords of the Maryland Manors make pilgrimages at this season to the manors in nearby Maryland. The Daughters of Colonial Wars also appeared in great numbers, among other groups meeting here with the Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims, the Founders and Patriots of America, the United States Daughters of 1812, the Colonial Dames of the Seventeenth Century, the Children of the American Revolution, the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

In 1942 community chests throughout the United States received contributions from an average of 23 per cent of the population.

Gets Jobless Pay; Lacks Transportation

Harrisburg, April 30 (AP)—A worker who has no means of transportation to a job is eligible for jobless benefits, says the state unemployment compensation board of review.

The board made the ruling in granting benefits to a Bloomsburg stenographer who refused a job 11 miles from her home.

The board found there was no public or private transportation available to her between Bloomsburg and Millville where she had been referred to a job.

"We do not believe that a claimant can be denied benefits because of a failure to either apply for work or accept work when such claimant lacks both adequate public transportation and her own private conveyance to the job," the board said.

Six Palominos Are Believed Lost In Fire

Souderton, Pa., April 30 (AP)—Six Palomino or "golden" horses were believed lost and 19 others were led to safety last night as flames destroyed a barn on the farm of Paul K. Fisher.

Three firemen were injured as the driver of the Souderton fire company apparatus swerved into a ditch to avoid striking one of the rescued horses as the animal broke away and ran down a road.

Fireman John Yocum, was treated at Grand View hospital for head injuries and two others were treated at scene for cuts.

Firemen said Fisher told them he believed there were 25 Palomino horses in the barn when the fire started. Fisher, a Souderton furniture dealer, has been raising the "golden" horses for a number of years.

In addition to all this, 53 American universities are directly taking part in atomic work. Others are taking part indirectly, which means a great many scientists working.

The big centers for atomic work are at:

Oak Ridge, Tenn.; Hanford, Wash.; Los Alamos, N. M.; The Argonne National Laboratory, Chicago; The Brookhaven National Laboratory, Patchogue, L. I., N. Y.

Spread Through Country

So, the atomic work spreads all through the country.

The four sides of the pyramid—medicine, biology, farming and industry—were mentioned above. This will show a little of the work being done in those fields.

Medicine—atomic scientists have found that cobalt, treated in a certain way, can be used as a substitute for radium in doctoring cancer, and is far cheaper.

Biology and farming—these fields often overlap. For example: In studying how plants use fertilizer.

Some of the secrets of life may come out of the work being done in those two fields. For instance, if the scientists can find how plants use the energy of the sun.

Industry—work is being done to find a way of using atomic energy to give power. Such power, if found and harnessed, could run ships or cities.

group has about 72 members. One of its officers is descended from Lord Nathaniel Truman, who was given authority by royal charter to establish a manor in southern Maryland. This Nathaniel Truman, says the officer-member, is in relation to Harry Truman.

The Descendants of Lords of the Maryland Manors make pilgrimages at this season to the manors in nearby Maryland. The Daughters of Colonial Wars also appeared in great numbers, among other groups meeting here with the Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims, the Founders and Patriots of America, the United States Daughters of 1812, the Colonial Dames of the Seventeenth Century, the Children of the American Revolution, the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

In 1942 community chests throughout the United States received contributions from an average of 23 per cent of the population.

Gets Jobless Pay; Lacks Transportation

Harrisburg, April 30 (AP)—A worker who has no means of transportation to a job is eligible for jobless benefits, says the state unemployment compensation board of review.

The board made the ruling in granting benefits to a Bloomsburg stenographer who refused a job 11 miles from her home.

The board found there was no public or private transportation available to her between Bloomsburg and Millville where she had been referred to a job.

"We do not believe that a claimant can be denied benefits because of a failure to either apply for work or accept work when such claimant lacks both adequate public transportation and her own private conveyance to the job," the board said.

Six Palominos Are Believed Lost In Fire

Souderton, Pa., April 30 (AP)—Six Palomino or "golden" horses were believed lost and 19 others were led to safety last night as flames destroyed a barn on the farm of Paul K. Fisher.

Three firemen were injured as the driver of the Souderton fire company apparatus swerved into a ditch to avoid striking one of the rescued horses as the animal broke away and ran down a road.

Fireman John Yocum, was treated at Grand View hospital for head injuries and two others were treated at scene for cuts.

Firemen said Fisher told them he believed there were 25 Palomino horses in the barn when the fire started. Fisher, a Souderton furniture dealer, has been raising the "golden" horses for a number of years.

OPPOSE USING TATTOOING ON BABES IN U. S.

Washington, April 30 (AP)—The U. S. Office of Vital Statistics wants to make clear that it does NOT favor tattooing number on all babies born in this country after January 1, 1949. It seems a lot of folks got that idea, and other ideas just as out-of-this-world, when the Office backed a proposal for standardizing the numbering of birth certificates in the states.

The standardization project was generally agreed upon by state registrars of vital statistics in "work conference" sponsored by the statistics office here in March. The idea is merely to make the registration of all births in the United States "simpler, more positive and cheaper" by a standard method adopted by all the states. There would not be a central federal file of birth registrations, and the project if carried through depends entirely on the states' adoption of the system.

Montana and the District of Columbia have already voiced approval of the idea and other states are following suit, says Herbert P. Dunning, acting chief of the Office of Vital Statistics. He says that although there are approximately 3,750,000 births in the United States annually, it would take more than a generation to get an appreciable portion of the population included in the newly-numbered group. If the project goes through it will be done this way: with three groups of figures printed on each birth certificate.

Three Groups of Figures

1. The first serial will consist of three figures indicating the registration area in which a child is born. The first figure will be the numeral 1, which will stand for United States. The second number, or second and third number, will represent the state, territory or city. (Canada uses a similar system. Its serial numbers start with "2." If other nations join the system they will use "3," "4," etc.)
2. The second serial will consist of

Winning Contests On Radio Is Art

Washington, April 30 (AP)—Contesting is as much an art as cooking, says Mrs. Florence Marshall Stellwagon, who has just entered her 1,000th radio contest and has won so many contest prizes she's lost count. Mrs. Stellwagon says contesting has a "language" all its own, magazines devoted to its activities and correspondence schools aimed at initiating the beginner.

There are long lists of people waiting to enroll in Mrs. Stellwagon's classes on contesting at the local Young Women's Christian Association. Mrs. Stellwagon began entering contests 20 years ago. She contributed slogans, jingles, testimonials. Prizes began rolling in. The best prize she ever won, she says, is her husband. She met him because they both were interested in jingles.

Two digits, indicating the year of birth—49—50—51 and so on. Births are already filed and indexed by year in most registration offices throughout the country. 3. The third serial will list six digits, indicating whether the registration lists the first, fortieth, 600th, or 999,999th certificate to be filed in the state within the year.

Mr. Dunning says that most people will accumulate from five to 25 numbers in a lifetime anyway—Social Security numbers, numbers on driver's licenses, insurance policies, bank accounts and charge accounts.

READING TRACKS ARE BLOCKED

Pottstown, Pa., April 30 (AP)—Six cars of a ten-car freight train were derailed today at nearby Linfield, blocking all four tracks of the Reading's main line from Philadelphia to New York, a Reading spokesman said.

Reading officials said no one was injured, but said that no trains would be able to move over the line until late this afternoon. Meanwhile all Reading trains were being re-routed over the Pennsylvania railroad's tracks.

The pile up occurred right in the town of Linfield, a community of 800, the Reading officials said. Of the six cars that jumped the track, two tank cars overturned. A Reading spokesman said.

James Burnett, freight conductor of Conshohocken, said he was aware something was wrong with the train about 200 yards before the first car jumped the track. He was unable to determine what caused the derailment, however.

The train was traveling on the westbound inner track of four, all of which were torn up by the wreck. Reading workmen began clearing the two outer tracks first.

Bus service was arranged by the Reading company for passengers

How to Fall in Love

in one easy lesson

TAKE a clear day—a Dynaflo* Buick—and a mind open to new experiences.

Turn the key in the lock—press down the gas treadle—and set this mighty Fireball straight-eight purring. Now:

Flick the selector lever till the pointer indicates "D"—that's for driving. Feed a little gas—and see what happens.

Smoothly, you slip away from the curb. Slightly you build up momentum. Effortlessly you cruise at whatever pace your treadle toe selects.

Look! you say. A stop light! What do I do?

Nothing special. Let up on the gas. Apply the foot brake as you need it.

That all? Won't the engine stall? Don't fret!

That's all. Your engine won't stall. You don't shift. Just sit there till the coast is clear. Then step on it. Step hard and you're off like a rabbit. Step lightly, and you ease smoothly away.

What's happening? you want to know. What's doing the shifting? Some mechanical hand under the floor boards?

Not in this car, sir. Oil does it all—spinning oil. Oil whirling to give you starting surge—power build-up—efficient cruising—engine braking effect on hills.

Oil that does everything the usual low, second and high gears do—without any gearshifting on your part—and without the slightest break in your stride except when you want it.

Say no more! I'm sold! Where do I sign up?

There's only one place. Only Buick has Dynaflo Drive, and no other American car has anything like it. With or without a car to trade, better see your Buick dealer first minute you can.

What's Different About DYNAFLOW DRIVE?

To an efficient new pump (left below), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

To Sponsor Pilgrimage
The business session, in charge of the president, Miss Marie Carbaugh, followed the dinner, and opened with prayer to Our Lady of Good Counsel, read by the president. Following the pledge of allegiance to the flag, the secretary's report was given by Miss Kathleen E. Klunk and the treasurer's report by Miss Eleanor Miller. Mrs. Thomas French, New Oxford, deanery chairman of war relief, requested that itemized reports of foodstuffs or clothing sent to war stricken countries be sent to her. It was decided to sponsor again the annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Mother Seton, at St. Joseph's college, Emmitsburg, on the Sunday nearest to August 15, that arrangements can be made. The members of the parish councils are requested to receive holy Communion on August 15 for the intention of the Cause of Mother Seton. It was also decided to sponsor the annual Day of Reflection, in November, the date and place tentatively, the Sunday following Thanksgiving at St. Joseph's academy, McSherrystown.

Plan Diocesan Meet
The Conewago Deane Council will be hostess to the annual convention of the Harrisburg Diocesan council this year, when the convention will be held June 23 and 24 in McSherrystown. The president announced that the first day of the convention will be taken up entirely with Youth sessions to include a luncheon for youth, chairman, moderators, board members and pastor and there will be a Diocesan board meeting in the evening, and the Daughters of Isabella will serve luncheon to the members.

The second day of the convention will begin with a pontifical high mass at 10 a.m., in the Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrystown. Each parish in the deanery will contribute to the fund which will provide a luncheon for the visiting clergy. There will also be a luncheon for those attending the convention and a banquet in the evening. Those attending mass will not be asked to receive Holy Communion, but are requested to go to Holy Communion the Sunday preceding the convention, to avoid the necessity of serving breakfast on that day. All the meals, excepting the priests' luncheon, will be served at DeLone Catholic high school.

Miss Katherine Klunk is in charge of reservations for the banquet and Miss Mary Claire Overbaugh for the Youth Luncheon. Chairman in arrangements for the second day luncheon will be announced later, and Miss Marie Carbaugh is in charge of the priests' luncheon reservations. Mrs. Maurice J. Sterner will be in charge of publicity; Miss Margaret Beltz, hospitality and shrines, and Miss Charlotte Hagerman, housing.

Next Meeting at Buchanan Valley

The president spoke briefly concerning the pamphlet, copies of which were recently distributed, entitled "Are People Necessary" by Anna Dill Gambel of York. Miss Carbaugh also announced that reservations for the married couples who will attend the Cana conference, to be held at St. Joseph's academy, McSherrystown, on Sunday, May 16, should be made by May 2. The purpose of the conference is to disseminate information about marriage and to encourage and promote proper living. The Rev. Thomas Chetwood, of the Society of Jesus, will conduct the conference, to begin with mass at 9 a.m., with four meditations, a luncheon and a solemn closing with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and the renewal of marriage vows.

The next quarterly meeting of the Deanery Council will be held at Buchanan Valley, with St. Ignatius of Loyola parish as hostess. The meeting last evening closed with prayer, led by the president.

The following attended the dinner meeting: Miss Margaret Smith, president; Miss Mary Jo Adams, Daughters of Isabella and Deanery vice president, and Miss Corrine Groff, delegate from Sacred Heart Parish, Conewago; Mrs. Evelyn Chrimer, president and Miss Pauline Topper, delegate from St. Joseph's Parish, Bonneville; Mrs. Nellie Kaehler, Mrs. Olive Spangler, Miss Kathleen Klunk, Deanery secretary, Miss Charlotte Hagerman, president, and Miss Margaret Beltz, deanery chairman of hospitality. Mrs. Bloem and son, Paul, then sang "Wanting You" from the light opera "New Moon" and "Sympathy" from the operetta, "The Firefly". The trio sang, "Stout Hearted Men" from "New Moon"; "Zei-Zuener" from the operetta, "Bitter Sweet" and "Because You're You". Paul Bloem followed with two popular pieces "Till the End of Time" and "Peg O My Heart". The program closed with the trio singing, "June Is Bursting Out All Over" by Carole. A large audience was present for the program and the guests were welcomed by President Richardson.

The program committee of which George P. Smith is the chairman arranged for this program. The serenaders during the past few weeks have appeared in Reading, Philadelphia, Hershey, Elizabethtown and the Bloomsburg State Teachers' college and the Keystone State Teachers' college at Kutztown. This morning they appeared before the Hanover high school students and tonight they will appear in Storers college. Harpers Ferry, West Virginia.

Next week, the Rotary club will meet on their regular night, Tuesday, when the program committee will again be in charge. At that time the letter boys and girls of the high school will be guests of the club. Coach Charles Haven of Western Maryland college will be the speaker and Robert Willett of Hanover will entertain with his vibra-harp.

City Folk Eat More Tomatoes And Fruit

Washington, April 30 (P)—A study of urban families in 1942 showed that city folks ate twice as much tomatoes and citrus fruits as farm families; one and a half times as much meat, poultry and fish; and more green and yellow vegetables. The survey also revealed they used only about two-thirds of the quantities of milk, sugars and sweets, grain products, dry beans, peas and nuts that farm families did. They consumed even smaller proportions of potatoes, fats and oils, and eggs.

What has happened to diets of city families in the past six years since the Department of Agriculture conducted this survey will be revealed in a new survey just getting started in 70 cities throughout the country. The purpose of the survey is to obtain current facts and figures for estimated potential use by city families of food produced by farmers. It is also being conducted to get material for developing programs to expand the consumption and improve the nutrition of consumers.

INJURY, THEN INSULT

Shanghai, April 30 (P)—The Foreign Y.M.C.A.'s jeep was stolen a year ago. The theft was reported to the police. In fact, the theft was reported twice, once to the district station and once to the central station. The other day the Y.M.C.A. got a court summons from the police. Its stolen jeep had run a red light.

Ottawa, Canada, (P)—Approximately 6,000,000 foreign vehicles crossed the border into Canada last year.

ROTARY CLUB ENTERTAINS ON THURSDAY

Littlestown Rotary held their weekly meeting on Thursday night instead of Tuesday this week when "ladies' night" was observed. The dinner meeting was held in Schottel's banquet hall when the Rotarians were the guests as well as Mrs. Martha Knouse, Silver Run, Elizabeth Ann Crouse, Marilyn Spangler, Barbara Crouse, Mrs. I. H. Crouse and Irvin Berscher, of town, both Luther Snyder, the vice president, and President Edward T. Richardson presided over this portion of the program.

Following the dinner the Rotarians and their guests went to the high school auditorium for the rest of the program to which the public was invited. At this time the sophomore class of the local high school treated their minstrel show which they had previously presented several weeks ago under the direction of Clayton Evans.

The second portion of the program was a professional musical program by the Serenaders, who were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bloom and their son, Paul, from Los Angeles, California. They were secured through the Antrim Lyceum Bureau, Philadelphia. Their program follows:

Musical Program
Mr. Bloom sang, "Ole Man River" from "The Show Boat"; "Shortnin' Bread" and "Three for Jack" by Weatherly. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bloom. Mrs. Bloom then presented two piano selections, "Scherzo" by Mendelssohn and "Golly Wog's Cake Walk" by Debussy, after which Paul Bloom sang, "The Desert Song" from the operetta of the same name and "Night and Day" by Cole Porter.

The next number was a trio, "Romany Life" from the light opera, "The Fortune Teller" after which Mrs. Bloom presented "Ave Maria" by Schubert. Mrs. Bloom and son, Paul, then sang "Wanting You" from the light opera "New Moon" and "Sympathy" from the operetta, "The Firefly". The trio sang, "Stout Hearted Men" from "New Moon"; "Zelenski" from the operetta, "Bliss Sweet" and "Because You're You". Paul Bloom followed with two popular pieces "Till the End of Time" and "Peg O' My Heart". The program closed with the trio singing, "June is Bursting Out All Over" by Carole. A large audience was present for the program and the guests were welcomed by President Richardson.

USE TESTS TO "MATE" PEOPLE TO THEIR JOBS

Washington, April 30 (AP) — In an effort to "mate people to the job" prospective clergymen and other professional church workers in the Washington City Presbytery must now pass a series of stiff psychological tests. The first of the series, consisting of some 400 queries and titled "Personal Inventory", are now being given to about 20 candidates by the Presbytery's Committee on Church Vocations. Some of the questions to which candidates must answer "yes" or "no" are as follows:

Are you easily moved to tears? Do you day-dream frequently? Do you find it difficult to speak in public? Can you stand criticism without feeling hurt? Do ideas often run through your head so you cannot sleep? Does it make you uncomfortable to be different or unconventional? Do you feel self-conscious in the presence of superiors in the business or economic world? Do you usually enjoy spending an evening alone? Do athletics interest you more than intellectual affairs? Do jeers humiliate you, even when you know you are right? Do you blush easily? The questions asked men are not the same as those asked women candidates, says Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the National Presbyterian Church here and chairman of the Committee on Church Vocations. The test falls into three groups — personality analysis, vocational aptitudes and personal interest areas. They are tried tests, previously used for personality analysis, and were selected by Dr. Clifford E. Davis, psychologist with the National Presbyterian Board of Christian Education at Philadelphia.

Are Self-Administered

Dr. Davis interprets the tests, which are self-administered. "For once in the history of the church, we are beginning to pay extra attention to personality," says Dr. Elson. "Before persons who feel called to become ministers, missionaries, directors of religious education, or commissioned lay workers, are approved even as candidates, they must be processed by the committee, and during the entire period of preparation, they are under the committee's supervision."

Dr. Elson points out that the psychological tests are just one phase of the selection and preparation of candidates for church jobs. Theology, history and even language tests still are considered of top importance. The psychological tests, he says, are given chiefly as a guide to counseling the candidate and directing him or her in the proper channels.

Dr. Elson came to Washington in 1945 from San Francisco, where he was director of the Presbyterian $27,000,000 post-war Restoration Fund. He was in wartime army service for five years, as a Colonel in the Chaplain Corps, senior chaplain of the 21st Corps, and later of the Seventh U. S. Army in Europe. He is still the Reserve Chaplain's Corps.
